Summary of Distribution of Families

List of Species

I N T R O D U C T I O N

The present account is an attempt to list in condensed form the known coastal fishes of Brazil. These reach the total of 578. Under each is given the several localities from which they have been reported. Most of the species described from or confined to this region of Brazil have the original citation, while others are given with the author and date of publication, and all included in parenthesis. All these may be located in the three volumes of Dean's "Bibliography of Fishes" to 1921. Since then the source of the others may be located scattered through the Zoological Record. A very extensive summary of the literature is finally given by RIBEIRO in his "Fauna Brasiliense — Peixes" (Arch. Mus. Nac. Rio de Janeiro, vol. 21, 1918, pp. 7 to 228). The "primeira parte — Resenha histórica" lists in sequence each author writing on Brazilian fisheh. The "terceira parte" though called "bibliographia e indice" is first a systematic list of species with synonyms and references. In my list of species following the scientific name are vernaculars as given by RIBEIRO.

The main purpose of the present work is to afford a ready clue to the literature dealing with the large shore fauna of Brazil. The preparation of the list was prompted by a suggestion of the late Dr. RODOLPHO VON IHERING during his last visit to the United States. It is hoped therefore that it may be of value as a basis for future studies, especially in the many problems of geographic distribution. With this largely in mind I have given a brief discussion and tabulated inventory according to the various families represented.

DISTRIBUTION

The fishes living in the salt water along the coast of Brazil even now, or after the great majority have doubtless been discovered and described, are relatively imperfectly known. The great shore line of Brazil bulges far along the Atlantic seaboard of South America for a distance of about four thousand miles. This great extent of sea coast is therefore not among the least of the many reasons for the imperfection of our knowledge. Throughout this coastal area are great numbers of widely differing river basins, perhaps the most divergent of any comparable area within the tropical belt of the globe. The immense Amazon water-course has worn a great estuary in the northern section, in which are also many other great water ways, channels, bights, etc. Along the southeastern coastal region of Brazil all the other hydrographic areas, rivers and water basins are quite small and of little volume, only the Rio São Francisco noteworthy, though this is hardly equal to most of the larger affluents of the great Amazon. Three subregions may be conveniently grouped as the Amazon, The Rio São Francisco and the Atlantic. These have been outlined by EIGENMANN and EIGENMAN<sup>N</sup> in 1891 when treating the Brazilian region in a study of the freshwater ichthyfauna of South America.

Species with greatly extended ranges, or those distributed around the tropical belt of the world along its shore reaches, have a representation of 41 genera and as many species. Fishes from the deep levels or those with bathypelagic distribution are largely still unknown, only a few scattered captures having been reported and for the present they may be excluded. In great measure the shore species of the entire area belong in the tropical region of the southern Atlantic, surely their section in distribution, and have much the aspect of those found on the shores of the countries to the southward, as Uruguay, Argentina and Patagonia. Many species have much in common with the shore fauna of tropical West Africa. The great majority of the species are those found in the region of the West Indies. Endemic Brazilian fishes, not found elsewhere, are 117 in number and were mostly described by the late MIRANDA RIBEIRO. Many of these are still merely nominal and await future rediscovery so that details may establish their true position and relationship. In most North American collection Brazilian marine fishes are usually not well represented, or only of limited extent.

THE WEST INDIAN REPRESENTATION

West Indian species are found represented in 89 of the 121 families listed. Those included in the west African representation are 74 families and in the Patagonian only 54. Among the sharks the requiem sharks or Galeorhinidae are the most numerous, with but one species (Mustelus fasciatus Garman) endemic in Brazil. The hammer-head sharks or Sphyrnidae, and saw fishes or Pristidae are found distributed around the globe. The sting rays or Dasyatidae, and the eagle rays or Myliobatidae are well represented. In the herring like fishes the tarpons or Elopidae and the true herrings or Clupeidae, besides the anchovies or Engraulidae, are represented by many species, some with greatly extended ranges, and nearly a third living about or in estuaries, these within the confines of Brazil. Various eels as the congers or Congridae, the serpent eels or Ophichthyidae and the morays or Muraenidae, are among the more abundant. Half are derived from the West Indies, or have only several nominal species local. In a similar way several sea cats or Tachysuridae are also represented. The lizard fishes or Synodontidae have one genus (Trachinocephalus) ranging throughout the tropical zone and but one other form localized on the Brazilian coast. The synentognathous fishes have numerous representatives as the flying fisher or Exocoetidae, a few local half beaks or Hemiramphidae, and several widely distributed bill fishes or long toms. In the large families of flounders and soles, most of the species belong in the West Indies, of which several are local. The soldier fishes or Holocentridae are of the West Indies, also a few pipe fishes and sea horses or Syngnathidae. The barracudas and gray mullets are West Indian, with the atherines more localized and Brazilian. Many mackerel like fishes range widely over the high seas or are pelagic, and have nearly uniform representation in the majority of the families with a noteworthy abundance of the crevisses or Carangidae. Percoid fishes with their numerous families have the largest representation, the sea basses and groupers or Serranidae first, the croakers or Sciaenidae a little fewer, with the grunts, mojarras and porgies still of less number. The mail cheek fishes are represented by the scorpion fishes or Scorpaenidae and the gurnards or Triglidae as the most abundant. The demoiselles or Pomacentridae, the wrasse fishes or Labridae and the parrot fishes or Scaridae, all very brilliant reef dwellers, are well represented and with nearly half the species coextensive. Among the wide ranging remoras or Echeneidae all are found in Brazil, besides numerous gobies or Gobiidae, blennies or Blenniidae and toad fishes or Batrachoididae. Most of the plectognathous and pediculate fishes have nearly equal representation.

THE WEST AFRICAN REPRESENTATION

This element is second in sequence or only exceeded by the West Indian. The proportional representation of the species does not exceed in any case the West Indian quotas though in many of the families it may sometimes equal or even occasionally exceed them. Transoceanic distribution is exemplified by 74 families compared with 91 for the West Indies.

THE PATAGONIAN REPRESENTATION

Of the regions considered in this discussion this is with the smaller or fewer elements. It has a few more distinctive forms. Chief of these are various skates, elephant fishes, fiasolas, crevasses, sea basses, porgies and croakers. They are represented by the genera Psammobatis, Callorynchus, Parona and Xystreurus, etc.

In addition to the littoral or shore fishes are several great groups of those living in the fresh waters of Brazil, surely unequalled elsewhere throughout the world in their great array of both genera and species. Only one-fifth of all the known families of Brazilian fishes have representation in fresh water. The great Amazon embouchure pours immense quantities of fresh water far out into the ocean, so that in this region the sea is freshened for several hundred miles at least. Il thus follows that fresh water fishes live within these limits, virtually in the ocean itself. The extend and variety of these forms is not yet well known.

With these few conclusion I have tried to sketch some of the main features in the facts gathered about the various families of Brazilian marine fishes and their distribution geographically. It still remains necessary for the future collecting and investigation of this great region to reveal and interpret these problems. Numerous and extensive undertakings will be necessary before any definite and permanent contributions will be available from such dimensions as are here demanded. While great areas of the shore faunas are still unrecorded or unknown, endless rocks, reefs and barriers are still to be explored. Still more are the great off shore levels and the abysmal depths beyond the continental shore lines.

The history of Brazilian fishes is found in an extensive literature inclusive of many the early naturalists who wrote on the natural history of South America. The development of resident naturalists has been more in the recent years, and it will require many more than have yet appeared before the taxonomy of the Brazilian ichthyfauna is finally perfected. In late years the passing of the two VON IHERINGS and MIRANDA RIBEIRO leave us with much more than memories of aquaintances or correspondants, rather the lament of valued friends. May the work they have so ably started be carried on with equal effort and interest.

LIST OF SPECIES

BRANCHIOSTOMIDAE

Branchiostoma platae Hubbs.

Rio de Janeiro, Santa Catharina (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO, 1903), São Sebastião (RIBEIRO, 1918). As B. caribaeum.

Asymmetron leucayanum Andrews.

Brazil (JORDAN, EVERMANN, CLARK, 1930).

SCYLIORHINIDAE

Scyliorhinus haeckelii (Ribeiro). Pinto?

E. S. E. da Ilha Rasa (Catulus haeckelii Ribeiro, Arch. Mus. Nac. Rio de Janeiro, vol. 14, 1923, p. 163, pl. 8). Scyliorhinus Blainville 1816 the earliest generic name as Catulus Andrew Smith 1837 is preoccupied by the same name by KNIPHOF 1759 in insects.

ORECTOLOBIDAE

Nebrius cirratum (Bonnaterre). Cação-lixa.

Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO 1923), Maceió (GILBERT 1900).

ISURIDAE

Isurus oxyrinchus Rafinesque.

Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO 1923).

Carcharodon carcharias (Linnaeus). Annequin (Requin).

Mercado do Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO 1907).

CARCHARIDAE

Carcharias taurus Rafinesque. Mangonga.

Rio de Janeiro, Rio Grande do Sul (RIBEIRO 1923).

ALOPIIDAE

Alopias vulpinus (Bonnaterre).

Santa Catharina (RIBEIRO 1923)

GALEORHINIDAE

Scoliodon lalandii (Müller and Henle).

Rio de Janeiro (CASTELNAU 1855, GARMAN 1913).

Scoliodon terrae-novae (Richardson). Frango, ?Cucuri.

Bahia (JORDAN 1890), São Salvador da Bahia, Rio Grande do Sul (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Rio de Janeiro, Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), Maceió (GILBERT 1900).

Hypoprion brevirostris Poey.

Pará (STARKS 1913).

Eulamia platyodon (Poey).

Pará (STARKS 1913).

Eulamia limbata (Müller and Henle). Serra-garoupa.

Bahia (Prionodon cucuri Castelnau 1855), Bahia do Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Ilha da Victoria (RIBEIRO 1918).

Eulamia porosa (Ranzani). Triaqueira, Cação do salgado

Brasil (Carcharias porosa Ranzani, Nov. Comm. Acad. Bonon., vol. 4, 1840, p. 70), Pará (RIBEIRO 1923); Magoarisinho (BOULENGER 1897).

Eulamia plumbea (Nardo).

Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO 1923).

Eulamia melanoptera (Quoy and Gaimard).

Mercado do Rio de Janeiro (Carcharias melanopterus Ribeiro 1923).

Eulamia remota (Duméril).

Rio Janeiro (GARMAN 1913).

Eulamia lamia (Blainville). Marracho.

Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO 1923).

Glyphis glaucus (Linnaeus). Focinhudo.

Brazil (Carcharias hirundinaceus Müller and Henle 1841, RIBEIRO 1923).

Galeocerdo arcticus (Faber). Tintureira.

Brasil meridional (Galeocerdo maculatus 1923).

Mustelus canis (Mitchill). Sebastião.

Bahia do Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Maceió (GILBERT 1900).

Mustelus fasciatus (Garman).

Rio Grande do Sul (Galeorhinus fasciatus Garman, Mem. Mus. Comp. Zool., vol. 36, Sep. 1913, p. 172).

SPHYRNIDAE

Sphyrna tiburo (Linnaeus).

Bahia (CASTELNAU 1855, GÜNTHER 1870, JORDAN 1890), Natal (STARKS 1913), Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), São Salvador da Bahia (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903).

Sphyrna tudes (Valenciennes). Chapéu-armado.

Rio de Janeiro (GARMAN 1913), Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), Maria Farinha, Pernambuco (RIBEIRO 1923).

Sphyrna zygaena (Linnaeus). Cornuda, Peixe-martelo.

Brazil (VALENCIENNES 1822, MÜLLER and TROSCHEL 1841), Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), Maria Farinha, Pernambuco; Bahia do Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Maceió (GILBERT 1900).

SQUALIDAE

Squalus fernandinus Molina. Caçao-bagre.

Barra do Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903).

DALATIIDAE

Isistius brasiliensis (Quoy and Gaimard).

Brazil (Scymnus brasiliensis Quoy and Gaimard, Voy. "Uranie", Zool., 1824, p. 198), Rio de Janeiro (MÜLLER and HENLE 1841, RIBEIRO 1923).

SQUATINIDAE

Squatina squatina (Linnaeus). Caçao-anjo.

Bahia do Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903).

PRISTIDAE

Pristis pectinatus Latham.

Santos (RIBEIRO 1918), costas do Brasil (RIBEIRO 1923), Natal (STARKS 1913).

Pristis microdon Latham. Peixe-serra.

Bahia de Botafogo (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Natal (STARKS 1913), Santos (RIBEIRO 1918).

Pristis cuspidatus Latham.

Bahia do Rio de Janeiro? (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO), Natal, (STARKS 1913).

RHINOBATIDAE

Rhinobatos percellens (Walbaum). Vióla.

Brazil (Rhinobatus undulatus Ölfers 1831, R. glaucostitus Ölfers 1831, R. marcgravii Henle 1834), Rio de Janeiro (CASTELNAU 1855, KNER 1865, SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903, GARMAN 1913), Bahia (R. electricus JORDAN 1890), Rio Grande do Sul (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Natal (STARKS 1913), Ilha de São Sebastião, Santos (RIBEIRO 1918).

Rhinobatos horkelii Müller and Henle.

Bahia (CASTELNAU 1855, RIBEIRO 1907), Rio de Janeiro (GARMAN 1913).

Zapteryx brevirostris (Müller and Henle).

Bahia (CASTELNAU 1855, RIBEIRO, 1907, Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903, GARMAN 1913).

TORPEDINIDAE

Narcine brasiliensis (Ölfers). Trême-trême.

Brazil (Torpedo brasiliensis Ölfers, Torpedo, 1831, p. 19, pl. 2, fig. 2), Rio de Janeiro (KNER 1865, RIBEIRO 1923), São Salvador da Bahia, Rio de Janeiro (SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903), Ubatuba, Santos, São Sebastião (RIBEIRO 1918).

Narcine brachypleura Ribeiro.

Brasil (RIBEIRO, Fauna Brasil, vol. 2, pt. 1, fasc. 1, 1923, p. 35, pls. 16-17).

RAJIDAE

Raja echinorhyncha Ribeiro.

Rio de Janeiro (RIBEIRO, Fauna Brasil, vol. 2, pt. 1, fasc. 1, 1923, p. 33, pls. 14—15).

Raja meta Ribeiro. Raya-chita.

Rio de Janeiro (Raia agassizii var. meta Ribeiro, "Pescas do Annie" 1904, p. 20; Raia castelnau Ribeiro, Arch. Mus. Nac. Rio de Janeiro, vol. 14, 1907, p. 177, pl. 15).

Raja cyclophora Regan.

Rio de Janeiro (REGAN, Proc. Zool. Soc. London, 1903, p. 60).

Uraptera agassizii (Müller and Henle). Raya-santa.

Rio de Janeiro (CASTELNAU 1855, SCHREINER and RIBEIRO 1903, GARMAN 1913), Santos (RIBEIRO).

Psammobatis extenta (Garman).

Rio de Janeiro (Raia extenta Garman, Mem. Mus. Comp. Zool., vol. 36, Sep. 1913, p. 356, on Raia erinacea, not Mitchill, RIBEIRO, Arch. Mus. Nac.
